5. Cost Basis Accounting Method Election

In October 2010 the Internal Revenue Service issued new mandatory regulations regarding cost basis that were established pursuant to the Economic Stabilization Act of 2008. Under the regulations, mutual funds are required to report cost basis information to the IRS for all shares acquired on or after January 1, 2012.

When you sell or exchange shares of your Thornburg Fund, you may have a capital gain or loss that you may be required to report to the IRS. To calculate the capital gain or loss from sold or exchanged shares, you must know the original price paid, or cost basis, for the sold shares. Any transaction that increases or decreases the number of shares in your account can affect the cost basis.

Available Cost Basis Methods

- Average Cost (ACST): A method for valuing the cost of covered shares in an account by averaging the effect of all covered transactions in the account. The gain/loss is calculated by taking the cumulative dollar cost of the covered shares owned and dividing it by the number of covered shares in the account.
- First In First Out (FIFO): A standing order to sell the oldest shares in the account first.
- Last In First Out (LIFO): A standing order to sell the newest shares in the account first.
- High Cost First Out (HIFO): A standing order to sell shares purchased at the highest cost first.
- Low Cost First Out (LOFO): A standing order to sell shares purchased at the lowest cost first.
- Loss/Gain Utilization (LGUT): A method that evaluates losses and gains and then strategically selects lots based on that gain/loss in conjunction with a holding period.
- Specific Lot Identification (SLID): The shareholder needs to designate which specific shares to redeem when placing their redemption request. If choosing SLID you should identify a secondary method _____ to be activated if lots are not identified, are insufficient or are no longer available. If no secondary method is selected FIFO will be used. Please note that Average Cost cannot be used as a secondary accounting method.

The cost basis accounting method elected in this application will be used for all accounts established by this application and any future accounts established unless you provide a different method. The information we collect will be used to report cost basis to the IRS in the event of a transaction that will be reported on a 1099-B form. Thornburg Investment Management will utilize Average Cost as our default cost basis accounting method for covered shares if section 5 is not completed.

Please note that Thornburg Investment Management offers no tax, investment, or sales advice. We recommend you discuss your specific situation with your tax advisor and financial representative. We understand that the new cost basis rules are complex. To assist our direct shareholder and financial advisor community we have setup a website page with cost basis information and a link to an online resource provided by our transfer agent.
